DISABILITY DISCRIMINATION

DISABILITY DISCRIMINATION

The Disability Discrimination Act 1995 (DDA) protects disabled people. The DDA defines a person as disabled if they have a physical or mental impairment, which has a substantial and long term (ie has lasted or is expected to last at least 12 months) and adverse effect on the person's ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities.

The list below contains examples of the types of impairment:

- Physical impairment, such as difficulty using your arms or mobility issues which means using a wheelchair or crutches.
- · Sensory impairment, such as being blind/having a serious visual impairment or being deaf/having a serious hearing impairment.
- · Mental health condition, such as depression or schizophrenia.

Learning disability such as dyslevia or cognitive impairment such as autism

Long-standing illness or health condition such as cancer. HIV diabetes, chronic heart disease, or epilepsy.

· Other, such as disfigurement.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES MONITORING

Monitoring Information

(Highland Care UK) is committed to the principle of equal opportunities in employment. We aim to ensure that all employees are recruited, trained and promoted solely on the basis of their skills and attributes.

We are committed to best practice recommendations that employers should regularly monitor the effects of selection decisions to assess whether equality of opportunity is being achieved.

For this purpose, we ask you to choose one option from each of the sections listed below and then tick or place an X in the appropriate box.

The information you provide will not be made available to those involved in the recruitment process. It will be used solely for the purposes of equal opportunities monitoring.
